Part 2 of 2: 10 Powerful Ways to Prepare for Worship

By: Bryant Evans on November

Prepare for Worship at the Church Building

7. Calmness

You took 6 steps before arriving at the church building. It is now Sunday morning and the worship service is minutes away. It's time to clear your mind and find that spot of calmness that we each have. At this point it no longer matters what else is happening in your life. This is your time with God. Allow the struggles of yesterday and the turmoil of tomorrow fade away as you approach the Lord. The Psalmist said that God was his rock and his fortress (Psalm 18:2), when we are with the Lord we are in a place of peace and calm.

8. Focus

We have come to this moment for one reason: to worship God. We will be uplifted by our brethren (Colossians 3:16, Ephesians 5:19) but we do not assemble to be entertained. This is God's time and we seek to worship him "in truth" (John 4:24). It really doesn't matter what is happening in the world, at work or even at home. You are with God now.

Some find it helpful to have a picture or image in their minds as they worship – something that speaks to the majesty of Jehovah. As we gather around the Lord's table for communion you will possibly change that image to one of the suffering savior, suspended between heaven and earth, dying for you and for me. As you intently peer into the mind's image, you are better able to focus upon the privilege at hand: the worship of God.

9. Oneness

Now that you have settled before the throne of Almighty God, your spirit seeks his spirit. We seek perfect union with the Father through the Son. It was Jesus' desire that we be one with our fellow Christians and one with the Father (John 17:20-26). Certainly in worship oneness and unity is desired.

As you sing and pray remember that you are singing and praying to God personally. As you listen to the Scripture being read, it is the very voice of God breathing out his thoughts to you (2 Timothy 3:16).

10. Be Resolved

As the service ends, know that God has spoken to you. He has spoken to you through his Word which was read into you hearing, he has spoken through faithful words of the preacher, he has spoken through the hymns and spiritual songs of your brethren. Now resolve to act on those words. Make a change. Improve your life. Enter the worship listening for encouragement and direction, leave resolved to be more Christlike.

Worship can be a powerful experience for good to the prepared, open-hearted participant. It is one of the few events that can be life changing. Do not attend worship to be entertained. Look for what you can put into your own worship. Any investment will be returned many times over.

Please keep in your prayers:

Julie Doughty is having ongoing health problems (daughter of Jerry Doughty).

Richard Davis has to have dialysis three times a week.

Pat Locke has not been feeling well.

Jackie King is recovering from a procedure. She will get the results later this week.

Joe Smith has been experiencing a tremendous amount of pain due to his chemotherapy (brother of Sherran Brown).
